Accelerated ERP for Construction Companies

Benefiting from practice knowledge gained across multiple deployments in the Engineering, Construction, and Operations Industry (EC&O), Illumiti in partnership with SAP has helped clients implement the right technology to proactively identify issues, take action, and stay profitable. Whether you're bidding, planning, budgeting or executing, we provide a comprehensive set of innovative tools to help you manage your EC&O enterprise.

Tight margins. Intense competition. Increasing risks. Engineering and construction firms are constantly under pressure to manage and mitigate inherent obstacles. And while new challenges are constantly emerging—a growing shortage of construction professionals, sputtering funding for transportation, infrastructure and other public projects—the construction market is always seeking to create opportunities. To position yourself for opportunity, EC&O companies need to re-think their strategies and status quo. Those companies that seize the initiative to innovate will take advantage of opportunities, overcome challenges, and thrive.

We're solving problems to accelerate the success of your EC&O enterprise with SAP best practice processes and embedded analytics technology.
